For 34 years, Beaman Home has provided essential services to domestic violence victims and their children. Annually, hundreds of families affected by abuse seek assistance in breaking the cycle of violence. Some seek information, community referrals and assistance with safety planning. Others are fleeing from their abuser, and need to enter the emergency shelter to keep themselves and their children safe. All have suffered the hurt, humiliation, and fear which comes with being a victim of abuse.

Beaman Home's programs and services focus on empowering victims to break the cycle of violence and take the healing journey to become a Survivor. Each victim receives individualized case management and support services based on the family's circumstances. By empowering victims with information and support, trained advocates work with each individual to see beyond the pain of the moment and begin working towards rebuilding their family's life, violence free.

Because violence knows no time, our Crisis Hotline and Shelter operate 24/7 to ensure a trained advocate is available whenever a victim needs help. Our services are provided at no cost to the victimized families seeking assistance. Beaman Home relies on the generosity of our community to help us keep our doors open.
